

Stephen Judd CEO, Axenia BioLogix LLC

Stephen is a biotechnology entrepreneur with 23 years of expertise in classical business development, product management and strategic market planning within start-up and large-corporate environments. He is the founder and owner of Axenia BioLogix, a contract manufacturer for cell culture serum and reagents.

As Treasurer and Chief Financial Officer for the ISIA since 2006, he has proven to be a creative problem-solver with well-honed communication and analytical skills, possessing the ability to liaise cross-functional teams toward common-sense solutions. As an ISIA Board Member since 2014, he has demonstrated leadership in partnering with the Association Board and membership on strategic and tactical business initiatives to continue the development of ISIA stakeholder value. In addition, he currently holds the position of Vice-Chair of ISIA.